

Jacek Kinecki is the new CEO of Przelewy 24 (P24)

Milan, January 31st 2022 – Jacek Kinecki is the new CEO of Polish payment service provider Przelewy24 (P24), part of the European payment service provider Nexi Group. He takes on the role from the departing founder, Piotr Kurczewski. Over the past 10 years, Kinecki has built an extensive knowledge of payments across various senior roles – most recently as Chief Commercial Officer (CCO) of P24 – building and shaping the growth of the PayPro company portfolio. In his new role as CEO of P24, he will be responsible for the strategic direction of the payment business, strengthening its ability to innovate, continuing to drive its strong growth, and ensuring stability and continuity for customers.

Additional facts around the Polish market and group dynamics:

- Poland has become the sixth strongest economy in the European Union and is one of the fastest-growing regions across the Nexi Group footprint - especially within e-commerce. This reflects the shift towards digitisation, which is strongly driven by the Polish government's Paperless & Cashless Poland programme, advancing the growth of cashless and digital payments.
- To benefit from these developments, Nexi Group has strongly invested in Poland in the past years by acquiring both P24, that is a leading player in the eCom space, and ePlatnosci (PeP), a leading non-cash payment operator mainly providing in-store payment solutions in Poland.
- As part of Nexi Group, P24 can serve international eCom customers with a European-wide offering and will benefit from a strong group product road-map within eCom.
